GO GREEN WITH ENVII

We have a new range of Non Hazardous, ultra-green cleaning products in specialist areas – Graffiti Removal, Rubber tyre mark and also chewing gum removal. Many products claim to be green and safe, however all other products on the market place currently have to be labelled as irritant and contain ingredients that can be reprotoxic, or have phosphates or even components that can give an illegal 'high'!!

WoW Case Study

Debbie is 49 and a mother of 2. She finds herself no longer secure or enjoying her highly paid job of 13 years in a field in which she lacked interest. She feels undermined and pressured and is aware that her age is playing against her. She has always wanted to work in a more altruistic manner and is interested in women's health and social issues.

Debbie, an ardent public speaker and motivator, wants to do something valuable and apply her skills in a completely different sector. Together with new and established contacts they organise and apply their different skills, share and source new ones to produce a solid workforce that holds a simple and proven formula for development and growth.

By investing in this idea and by gaining new skills and tools obtained through new networks and employment agencies, Debbie is now able to work to her strengths. She has made work for herself and her contacts and has gained great satisfaction in encouraging and motivating other women in her community.
